

Genesis 1:27

So God created man in His own image; in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them.

If you are not a believer and if you knew if Adam had a bellybutton or not, would that make you believe and give your life to Jesus?

Wait a minute, what does that have to do with the price of tea in China?

Wait a minute Steve, you have gone into a tangent here, what does how much tea is in China having to do with Adam and a bellybutton? Well, I just did the same thing those of you do that have rejected Jesus, or maybe those you know who have rejected Jesus.

Just as I have gone from Adam having a bellybutton to the price of tea in China, so do the non-believers go on a tangent, because if you think about it, what does the question of Adam having a bellybutton or not have to do with salvation.

Another thing they may ask is, "Can God make a rock so big that He can't lift it?"

Once again, what does that have to do with your eternity or giving your life to Jesus?

Will the non-believer say when they die, "Sorry God, I couldn't give my life to Jesus because I didn't know if Adam had a bellybutton or not?"

I know that sounds stupid, because it is, and if that offends you, then great, I'm glad it does, because we are talking about your eternity here. This is not some game to play with God, and He's not looking for excuses. Simply, Jesus gave His life for you so that you would turn from your sins and give your life in return to Him, so that you would spend eternity in Heaven with Him and not in Hell apart from Him for all eternity.

So once again, don't ask the question if Adam had a bellybutton or not, but ask yourself, why are you so concerned about that and not your eternity?

† John 12:25 (NLT) Those who love their life in this world will lose it. Those who care nothing for their life in this world will keep it for eternity.
