

Jeremiah 4:22

"For My people are foolish, They have not known Me. They are silly children, And they have no understanding. They are wise to do evil, But to do good they have no knowledge."

Kids are a great source for learning, because if you think about it, we are like children and God is our parent (Father). Keeping that in mind, think about how you will clean up a child's room, placing all their toys in the toy box, and setting them up nicely on the shelf. But then give them five minutes, and the room is a wreck with toys everywhere. So what do you do? When they are done playing, you ask them to pick things up and put them back.

I remember years ago, when my kids were very young that my daughter was pretty good at doing this, if you helped her. But my son on the other hand, would look at you like you asked him to do the impossible and he wouldn't do it.

Now you must understand that my daughter was only a little over two years old at the time, and my son a year old, so you really can't expect too much from them at that age. But what about when they grow up and are teenagers, should they be disobedient and not listen to their parents and even destroy the things they are given? No way. But what about us?

† "For My people are foolish,
They have not known Me.
They are silly children,
And they have no understanding.
They are wise to do evil,
But to do good they have no knowledge."

We are so good at messing things up, but when the Lord asks us to clean things up, then we get upset with Him.

"You want me to do what?"

"You want me to give up what?"

"I should stop seeing who, why?"

"I should give this to him or her, but it's mine, mine, mine?"

Do any of these things sound familiar to us? Maybe it's time to stop being disobedient to our heavenly Father and start listening to His instructions.

† Proverbs 4:1-2 Hear, my children, the instruction of a father, And give attention to know understanding; For I give you good doctrine: Do not forsake my law.

How happy are we when our children are obedient to us?

How happy is the Father when we are obedient to Him?

We would never ask our child to do something wrong or bad. So we should stop thinking that God is asking us to do something wrong or bad and just do it, and we should all be able to say what Jesus said, “for I always do those things that please Him.”

† John 8:29 “And He who sent Me is with Me. The Father has not left Me alone, for I always do those things that please Him.”
